

STRAW BAIL FOR BLACKHANDS

JUDGE SWANN GIVES A TIP TO THE SUPREME COURT.

After the conviction of a Blackmailer He Says That Two Like Him Escaped to Italy After Conviction, Jumping Bail Accepted in the Higher Court.

After the conviction of an Italian blackmailer in General Sessions yesterday Judge Swann expressed fears that the prisoner might get away on straw bail like others. He said:

"In two cases almost exactly similar to this one, after the accused Italian had been convicted of extortion, action was taken before a Justice of the Supreme Court who had never tried a criminal case. In each case he granted a certificate of reasonable doubt. In both instances a low bail was taken which afterward turned out to be worthless. When the cases went on appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court the conviction in this court was unanimously sustained. The defendants had in the meantime jumped their straw bail and had returned to Italy."

The prisoner convicted yesterday was Salvatore Romano, indicted with two other supposed Blackhanders for attempted extortion. He was convicted two minutes after the jury had retired. Judge Swann sentenced him to Sing Sing for no more than seven years or less than three years and eight months.

Gaetano Sferazza, the complainant, is a theological student who ran a grocery store to pay his way. It was blown up with bombs and he got many letters demanding money. Finally he paid marked money to the prisoner. Sferazza says his life has been threatened for prosecuting the case.

Judge Swann noted that there were a number of Romano's friends in court yesterday. He called on them to come to the bar and listen to what he had to say. The interpreter was instructed to say:

"I have just sentenced your friend to term in prison, which he richly deserved. I shall follow the actions of this man's friends as much as I can, and if anything is found against them I shall do all in my power to punish them. I especially warn his friends to let the complaining witness alone, for if any crime can be fastened on them in this connection they will be sentenced to the limit of the law. We propose to break up the Black Hand and the vendetta we will not tolerate. The complaining witness has the right to carry a revolver, and if he is threatened it is my earnest desire that he use it before the other man has a chance to use his."

The two other Italians who were co-defendants with Romano will be placed on trial early in October.

Lonesome Neely of the Flag Outfit.

F. Tennyson Neely, the only one of the Jared Flag bunch for whom nobody has taken the trouble to give bail, was taken from the Tombs yesterday to the Federal Building by United States Marshal Henkel and spent nearly an hour in Assistant United States District Attorney Abel I. Smith's office. A stenographer was present. There was a report current that the Government would use him as a witness against Flag. Mr. Smith said that there had been no conference and Neely said that Flag's business was all right so far as he knew.

For Fall chills—We prescribe a light overcoat.

A handsome Scotch cheviot or tweed, for instance—perhaps cut with raglan shoulders to give it more of an English sloping shoulder effect.

Or something a little more subdued and conservative in darker cloths—many full silk lined.

Might look them over anyway—we've a bigger variety of light weight coats than we ever had.

From $18 to $45.

Fall suits, too. Rich browns and grays—many imported. From $18 to $48.

For Autumn motoring—Motor coats—both light and heavier weights—beautiful fancy chevrons—some "double cloth."

SUITS FOR EVERY MAN

Models for Every Form and Taste At Prices Lowest in the City

For the man of average height and weight

Seventeen distinctly different models to fit the average man; embracing a variety of shoulder widths and lapel shapes that will correctly frame any type of face.

Particular attention is directed to our English models, which are unlike the ordinary ready-made so-called "English" models about town. Our English-cut Suits are very similar in general design to the models shown by the best Fifth Avenue tailors.

Wide rounded collar and lapel, fitted waist lines and double gored coats combined with the essentially English idea of cutting the skirt of the coat the same length all around give an effect which is at once extremely stylish and unusual in ready-made clothing. Suits cut in this model at $24.75, $29.75 and $38.50.

For the slim, compact man of 5 ft. 6 or 5 ft. 7 in.

A semi-English model, with no wiry canvas or stiff hair-cloth and no heavy padding is $14.75.

Browns, grays, and blues in both rough and smooth mixtures, designed especially to give an effect of height, at $14.75, $19.75 and $22.50.

A number of novelty Suits are in bright Scotch effects cut on an extremely English model. The material is very smooth and of close texture, but it gives the appearance of being rough, because of the pattern. Priced at $24.75.

For the tall man

Macy's is a specialty store in clothing. Accordingly we show five distinct models made especially for tall men. These Suits are cut with long sleeves, long skirts and extra long trousers. They are chiefly in neat, quiet effects, gotten by two tones of one color. This effective harmony is carried out in dark browns, dark grays and grayish greens. Prices are $14.75 to $24.75.

For the large, broad shouldered man over average weight

These Suits are not merely ordinary Suits cut in extra large sizes. They are especially designed to lie close to the figure and give a slim effect not obtainable with ordinary ready-made clothes. We offer a choice of either conservative or semi-English cut styles, just as we do in our Suits for the average man.

There are five distinct models, all designed to give the maximum effect of slimmness. Prices begin at $14.75 and go up to $38.50.

Suits that are a little out of the usual and yet not in any way striking are our new weaves in double pencil stripes. The backgrounds are the conventional browns and grays. Prices $14.75 to $38.50.

Heavy Weight BLUE SERGE SUITS

The model on which these blue serge suits are cut is an unusually good one; and the suits are well tailored and will stand long, hard wear. Prices are $14.75 and $19.75.

Lisle-thread "Irontex" looks very like silk, but that does not prevent it "wearing like iron." ELASTIC TOP, PERFECT FITTING, FULL FASHIONED IN BLACK, TAN, GRAY, HELIO, BURGUNDY, GREEN AND NAVY. 24c

HIS HAT IS STILL NEW—

He Bought It at Macy's and Saved Money, of Course

The man who paid $2.00 for his Derby at ——— has just discarded it. The "black" wore grey. He was brought into Macy's by the man who had paid $1.88 at Macy's—the "regular Macy saving" at that price.

The man who had paid $1.88 at Macy's wears a hat that is still practically new.

Which illustrates the fuller significance of the economy of this store.

It isn't merely how little you pay; it's how much you buy.

Men who buy their hats regularly every year at Macy's are influenced by two motives.

They pay less;—(the greater motive) they buy what they can be sure of.

We are not talking through our hat, but through theirs. "Money back if the hat wears bad," is our motto.

What's yours?

Autumn Derbies.....$1.88 to $3.49

Autumn Soft Hats..... 99c. to $3.49

THE CAP FITS

Smart Imported Tweeds and Homespun at $1.49

That is what the man is told in the ordinary store, "The cap fits."

That is all there seems to it. We at Macy's have a higher standard than mere "fitting."

Why not? A woman wouldn't buy a hat on the mere recommendation of fitting.

Why aren't men as careful? When we sell caps either to men or young men, or even to boys, we take care that they SUIT as well as fit.

About fifty per cent. of men who buy caps elsewhere buy caps that suit—other faces.

In England caps are the mode. There is no reason why they should not be the mode here.

We are showing a large assortment in the approved English weaves—tweeds, homespun.

Prices, of course, are lowest in the city—"The Regular Macy Saving."

Caps for men and young men—49c. to $2.49

Are you one of those who go for sporting supplies to sporting outfitters in the belief that you get wider assortments there than here?

It is important to golfers to know that they can get what they want at Macy's at prices lowest-in-the-city in this as in everything else.

The Famous "Thistle Club" Made by one of the leading club makers and sold elsewhere under other names at much higher prices.

These can be had in all the popular models of wood and iron clubs, drivers and brassies, putters, cleeks, mid-irons, lofers, mashies, niblicks, etc.
